You are invited to an evening with the deVere Group's Investment Strategist Tom Elliott who came to Vienna just for this lecture. Tom will discuss the way forward on Brexit, helping to clarify the arguments, and look at how different outcomes may affect financial markets and your savings. For instance, what are the implications for sterling, for UK property prices and for the UK and broader European economies?

He writes and presents on investment themes, and discussed current political and economic trends as they affect investors.
