BioTech company APEIRON Biologics, founded by the famous Austrian geneticist Josef Penninger in 2003, quickly came to the fore in the wake of the corona crisis. After specializing in immunotherapy for cancer and respiratory diseases, it is one of the worldwide companies that are the most advanced in researching an anti-corona virus agent. Dr Penninger is on the Supervisory Board of the company.

Peter Llewellyn-Davies, Chief Executive Officer, Chief Financial Officer (CEO/CFO) More than 25 years of professional experience as Board member of companies such as Medigene AG, Shield Therapeutics plc, WILEX AG, Immunocore Ltd. and Catherex Inc. He joined APEIRON Biologics in 2017.

APEIRON Biologics is a privately-held European biotech company based in the heart of Europe, in Vienna 1030.

If you have heard of biotechnology, a totally different business model compared to typical pharma companies, with the vision of developing new drugs to treat e.g. cancer patients without damaging side effects, then you may also have heard about APEIRON Biologics AG, the Viennese biotechnology company who has developed drugs, also approved for the treatment of paediatric cancer patients. You will then also obviously have heard of Covid-19. But why is APEIRON Biologics active in this field?

After the usual Q & A Session there will be a Serviced Bar and Buffet.
